“ Clarence and I became friends about two years ago. Pool brought us together as we fought daily against one another. He usually would up end up ahead but I can boast this. I was victim to Clarence' last pool shot. He barely hit the object ball and about 10seconds and 4 rails later the 9 ball fell in. If you know his laugh you can imagine him laughing all the way out the billiards place. Rest in peace Mr. Powell you're and will be missed. Your friend Brad

“ Welford and I will always remember Clarence as a kind, caring, and considerate dear friend.
He always greeted us with a big smile, and he was so positive even though he was experiencing serious health problems.

Condolences and blessings to Clarence's family.

“ Sometimes worlds collide and people so different find out that they are so very much the same. I learned that with you 20 years ago when we were both dealing with some trauma in our lives. I pretty much beat you down until you agreed to be my friend and tell me your story. From that day on you became one of my most loyal and trusted friends. I knew that I could share anything with you without judgment because you had also "been there and done that" . Your laughter was the defense mechanism when I first met you and then became more joyful as time went on and you opened yourself to everyone. It was a beautiful sight to see. I had the privilege of helping you get back to work in the hotel industry and while we had a dream of being at the same property that never got to happen. Time passed, I moved away. You never missed my birthday. I could count on your phone call more than some of my own blood relatives. When I moved back to Oklahoma City and my life was upside down you left me cards of encouragement, you took me out for a special meal here and there but I didn't get to spend as much time with you as I should have. I just want you to know that it was never lack of caring. Every time we got together it was if we'd seen each other yesterday. So in that spirit, I can't wait until the next time we see each other and it feels like no time has passed at all. We will laugh and share a beer, play a round of pool and all the trauma won't even be a memory.

I love you so much. Thank you for your service to our country. Thank you for being such a kind and gentle man. Thank you so much for opening your heart one day and becoming my friend. You will not be forgotten. 🙏❤️😊
